

Supply List for Whitetail Deer Hunts

- Small flashlight
- Lighter or matches
- Scent eliminator spray
- Shoes or slippers to wear in camp
- Camera & extra batteries or charger
- Safety belt if you're bow hunting (bring your own or we can supply)
- Fanny pack or small day pack for miscellaneous items
- No scent shampoo & body wash (H.S. Scents, Scent Shield, etc.)
- Please remember that a passport will be required to travel to and from Canada!
- Scent Lock suit (optional but definitely recommended), liner system is fine also
- Good pair of mitts and ski-goggles for driving 4-wheelers
- Face mask and warm hat - we recommend "Mad Bomber" rabbit fur hat in blaze orange
- Warm clothes (underwear, wool socks, etc.) Layering is best and down fill is very warm
- Adequate supply of hand warmers (minimum of 4 per day). We recommend the body size packs
- Gloves & Boots (boot blankets & hand muffs are recommended). Also a light pair of wool gloves to wear inside of hand muff
- If you have trouble staying warm in the stands you should consider "The Heater Body Suit" or a "Cocoon". These are basically sleeping bags that have been modified for hunting and I can personally say that they make it easy and even comfortable to be out in 20 below weather all day
- The outer layer of your jacket has to be red, orange or white (white is best). You can wear camo pants or whatever color you want. Hat or toboggan must be orange. Outer suit should be fleece or wool (something quiet). Do not use Gore-Tex as your outer layer because it gets noisy when it is cold. Camouflage orange or white is ILLEGAL
- Muzzleloader Hunters: Please notify me of the type of gun powder you will require & I will arrange to have some at camp, as it is illegal to transport it on the airlines
- All clothing that is to be worn while hunting should be washed in no scent laundry detergent and stored in sealed plastic bags. (This also applies to new clothing)
- Please do not use ballistic tip bullets - they are a very good bullet but they were not designed for the type of hunting (thick brush) that we are doing. Nosler Partition, Barnes X, etc are good choices
- WINTER PACKAGE: you can rent everything you will need to stay warm from us which includes Heater Body Suit, boot blankets, hand muffs, hand and feet warmers. I highly recommend renting this package cause if you are warm and comfortable in the stand the quitter you will be. $150 per week
